Although our greater depth of knowledge and interest is in Italian cuisine, we plan to offer original recipes from families of several of the nations surrounding the Mediterranean basin. Here again, we will reference excellent existing sources whether or not we can improve on them. And so...MANGIA, MANGIA.

Most of the Italian recipes in this section come from the memory and imagination of Chef Sebastian Dechiaro, the current guardian of the "passion for the kitchen" ("la passione per la cucina") embodied in our wives, mothers and grandmothers.
